Good News! • DOC staff raised $95,788 for the Missouri Special Olympics, more than any other state law enforcement agency.

- Director Dora B. Schriro, Ed.D. was named the country's top corrections director by the Association of State Correctional Administrators, a professional organization of the nation's directors for state, federal and large municipal corrections systems.
- A Family Orientation Meetings Team composed of Constituent Services Officers and Fulton Reception & Diagnostic Center staff, won the Governor's Award for Quality and Productivity. The orientation program is for families of newly incarcerated inmates.
- The Boonville Correctional Center Restorative Justice Garden Project, in which inmates raised 14 varieties of fruits and vegetables on a 4-acre plot, donated over 15,000 pounds of produce to area food banks in 1999.
- The Western Reception, Diagnostic and Correctional Center in St. Joseph, a 1,880-bed men's facility that includes a 500-bed reception and diagnostic center, opened September 2, 1999.
- For continuing excellence in customer service, the Constituent Services Office was a southern region finalist for the Council of State Government's prestigious Innovations Award.

a monthly fact sheet

Did you know?

To maintain a safe and secure institutional environment and to promote sobriety and accountability among all offenders, the Department employs a comprehensive three-part substance abuse strategy that is straightforward and aggressive.

Assessment (See January Fact Sheet)

Interdiction

Institutional and field intervention techniques for identifying substance

Treatment & Education (To be featured in March's Fact Sheet)

abusers and intercepting contraband include:

- Targeted Urinalysis*–Offenders identified as at-risk-of-use are tested frequently.
- Random Urinalysis*–Offenders in the general prison population and the field are tested randomly.
- Telephone Monitoring–Inmate telephone calls are monitored by staff to intercept drug transactions.
- Institutional Searches—Corrections officers conduct searches on a regular, random and targeted bases as circumstances warrant.
- Canine Team Searches—Institutional grounds and buildings are searched routinely.
- Observation—Staff are trained to recognize symptoms of substance abuse and to make reports and/or referrals.

All of these techniques help to deter the manufacture, distribution, possession and use of drugs and alcohol by offenders.
